

Ancient wonders

A unique selling exhibition of Roman glassware is being held at the Charles Ede gallery, W1. Dating from the 1st-4th centuries, these exquisite glass vessels were originally used to hold ointments and perfumes. To showcase the pieces, the gallery has collaborated with the floral designer Shane Connolly, who will be filling these ancient treasures with simple spring flowers. This one-of-a-kind show takes place on May 29-June 6; entry free. charlesede.com

